HAVAS

Rome, Feb. 9—Cardinal Jose Pecci, brother of Pope Leon XIII, died this morning.

Madrid, Feb. 9—It is stated in Court circles that the Duke of Seville will shortly be pardoned and will thereupon return to Spain.

GALVESTON.

Paris, Feb. 8th.—Milan, the ex-king of Servia, has recently lost three hundred thousand francs at the tables in Monte Carlo and the loss has so affected him that he has threatened to commit suicide.

The Duke of Orleans was arrested yesterday for having violated the decree of exile promulgated against his family. He occupies a comfortable room in the Mayorial prison and by the orders of the Minister of the Interior is being treated with the greatest possible consideration. The Monarchical Deputies have resolved to interrogate the government on the matter. A republican paper says that the law imposes a penalty of from 2 to 5 years imprisonment on the head or direct heir of a former reigning family violating its provisions, and that the government has resolved that it shall be strictly applied. The Duke appeared before the Court to-day and, stating that he had come to France to fulfill his military duties, asked for a postponement with the object of preparing his defence, and the hearing was thereupon adjourned till Wednesday.

Rome, Feb. 8—Cardinal Pecci, brother of the Pope, died to-day.

Washington, Feb. 9—Secretary Tracy is dying. The Cabinet will meet on Monday

London, Feb. 9—The Spanish authorities are anxious with regard to the consequences that may follow the great meeting to be held on the eleventh, the anniversary of the abdication of ex-King Amadeus and the inauguration of the short-lived Spanish Republic.

Lisbon, Feb. 9—Senator Carvo, a member of the Council of State, has sent a challenge to Mr. Petre, the British Minister, on account of the nature of his reply to the students' manifesto.

(From the Interior.)

Rioja, 10th—Under the presidency of Dr Rodolfo Flores, a club de Gimnasia and Esgrima is to be started here.

People here very much moved about the death of Dr Rawson, but things are so tight it is not probable the wide-spread regret will take any tangible shape.

Esperanza, 10th—It has rained very heavily here but no damage done,

A petition for the inauguration of the Railway-works was sent to-day to Governor Galvez.

Everything calm here after the elections.

Rioja, 10th—Governor Gonzalez leaves shortly for Cordoba on a visit to President Juarez. The Governor is popular. He has been entertained by the Foreign residents here at a banquet.

It has rained plentifully here.

Mendoza, 10th—The firearms and other material which Col. Ortega had in his possession have been sequestrated by Gen. Bosch. They occupy two wagons and have been sent to B. Ayres.

THE BOLSA REPORT.

The annual report of the Camara Sindical has produced such an excellent impression in all circles that we feel much pleasure in reproducing the principal part of that able document for the benefit of our readers. The Report deals with events that are still fresh in the minds of all, and throws some fresh light on the financial drama and its actors, whose unfortunate appearance on our local stage has landed the country into the gold premium of 120o/o. A mere glance at the substance of the report will show how right the stock exchange committee were in their views on the Finance Minister's unfortunate financial crusade. The report of the committee is as follows:—

To the General Meeting of Members and Shareholders of the Bolsa de Comercio.

Gentlemen—

The regulations of this association order the Committee to present an annual report on the working of the establishment. In obedience to that precept the Camara Sindical begs to present this statement for 1889.

We cannot disguise that the year that has elapsed has been one of anxiety, owing to the events that attacked the stability of the institution at one time, but subsequently proved to satisfaction that such centres of commercial activity as a stock exchange, are not, what vulgar prejudice and even statesmen have imagined that they are, a Pandora casket that contains and breeds all the financial and economic ills that at present afflict the country.

It may be asserted that up to very recently this Bolsa had never been the victim of such violent and despotic attacks as we witnessed this year; attacks bred in theories of a stock exchange animosity that lays at the doors of the Bolsa all the blame for the financial woes of the situation. Yet, the Bolsa has been solemnly and completely vindicated in this very period, when the suspension of its normal action in the regulation of values has had the effect of increasing the financial disturbances that afflict the country, instead of diminishing them.

Nor has the arbitrary official quotation been able to respond to the hopes framed and control that imperious and anonymous force, the joint result of speculation and of the general interests and stake, that reduces all values to a level in harmony with the circumstances of the market.

In a previous report, at a time when we did not even suspect the advent of a period of agitation against the Bolsa, we unwittingly endeavoured to remove the prejudices entertained against the stock-exchange.

We said then: It is a vulgarity, exploded in the light of experience and financial principles, to look on the Bolsa as a gambling hall for the transaction of illicit operations. Whoever cares to study its mechanism of operations will see that they are completely controlled by the laws that govern the other economic forces: everything is regulated by a species of gravitation in which personal interests control each other and maintain general harmony.

Speculation, with all its intemperance and erratic movements, finds also its barrier and corrective when it exceeds the limits. The Bolsa does not foment, does not curb speculation: it is merely a theatre for financial activity, and in it or out of it the interests at stake are always the same, for speculation has always the same hallucinations, the same objects in view.

The confirmation of all this, which sounds as a mere dissertation, we find in the ministerial period of Mr. Varela, a declared enemy of the Bolsa and an ingenuous enemy, convinced as he was that the price of gold would fall if the Bolsa were subjected to forcible legislation. His intentions were good, and the Bolsa would have helped such a noble aim within a reasonable orbit, if he had not made the Bolsa a target in his exercise to grapple with the monetary crisis.

More satisfactory results might have been expected from a policy of financial amity towards the principal commercial institution of the country, for Mr. Varela might have found in the Bolsa an ally to help him in a program that met with favour from all. The Bolsa would have tendered this support with all the more determination as it is principally in its midst that monetary disturbances are most acutely felt. Minister Varela, however, thought otherwise: he believed in a policy of aggression, in a system of financial despotism whereby he could annul the freedom of action in the market of demand and supply and enjoy the sovereignty of fixing the value of the currency.

The Bolsa, a commercial establishment whose financial interests are completely estranged from politics, submissive to all forms of authority, always ready to support any government policy of a conservative nature, never laid itself open to such attacks. This aggression, directed against a commercial concern formed by the most influential capitalists, could not be rationally explained; less could such aggression be based on the assumption that its members conspired against the interests of the country, since such an argument would imply that there is honour and profit in an attempt to destroy the public wealth with which the wealth of one and all is linked; it would imply that the shareholders who subscribe all the capital that is diffused in the progress of the country believed it profitable to paralyze the production and industries vitalized by their money.

Gambling for differences on 'Change was protected by the liberty of speculation, the most fundamental of all economic rights. The stock exchange committee could not forcibly repress such operations without intruding upon a field which was beyond all control. If regulations or indirect means not violating freedom of contract were available to repress such operations, the Committee, more interested than anybody in the task of reform in every possible or correct manner, would have joined the ministerial crusade against gambling, in spite of the conviction they had and have that gambling is not a cause, but an effect beyond all control as long as those forces subsist which foment to an extravagant degree speculation in all classes of society.

The first measure of the new Minister was to order the suppression of gold prices, a measure futile in effect, as experience has shown us; yet we must acknowledge that measure was a logical consequence of the financial creed proclaimed by the Minister from the very beginning.

The committee not only protested against the measure, but endeavored to safeguard the rights of the members of the Bolsa. With all the due regard to those whose rights had been injured, the Committee begged to state that those operations were licit, sanctioned by law and universal practice, that the Committee, furthermore, were not authorized by the regulations of the institution to convert themselves into executors of such measures, and that a delay of eight days was expedient in order to consult a general meeting of the shareholders.

The committee did not resist the measures, nor did they provoke any violence; in all justice they demanded what was indispensable to safeguard rights supposed to be sanctioned by common and special laws. A delay of twenty-four hours only was granted; after the expiry of that term the Bolsa was occupied by the police force.

The committee bowed to the Ministerial order, protesting their rights, and begged that the Bolsa be opened to other operations than those in gold, and this concession, after much labor, was granted.

After such a succession of disagreeable events, and in the midst of conflicting opinions as to the conduct of the Committee, we thought that the best means of consulting the opinion of the members was to present our collective resignation, thus leaving to the votes of the members their verdict on the policy followed in the emergencies.

The Committee, reelected by an immense majority, received thereby a vote of confidence and approval.

THE FAR SOUTH IN LONDON.

London, January 5th 1890

We give the following extracts from two London letters received by the mail, which may interest our readers:—

"I am glad to see Kincaid and Costa (is this Dr. Eduardo Costa?) have got a concession for a Railway from San Blas to Nahuel Huapi. It is the only way to open up the Rio Negro to immigration and industry and will give great importance to San Blas. We may live to see San Blas as bustling a place as Rosario; it is only a question of ten years more or less. If not in 1900, probably 1910, you will see a vast change on your quiet beach.

"I note the concession for working the salt mines, which will prove a mine of wealth to the concessionaires. You have but to get the returns from Cadiz to find out the true value of this most important of all your concessions.

"There is talk here of a syndicate being formed, I think by friends connected with the Chubut Company, but as yet I cannot send you particulars. I think your friend, Mr. Leesmith, can advise you more on this head. Luro's great property on the Colorado has been offered, and I should not be surprised if it is taken up. If your Government persists in selling all its territory in the South at the price I read, 2 dollars gold per hectare, then, believe me, that in a very few years the South coast of Buenos Ayres will become of great importance.

"I send you by the mail the new map of San Blas Harbour, published by the British Admiralty. I had some trouble that they did not send you the map of San Blas in Mexico."

DATES UP TO 15th ULT.

London, Jan. 15th

Some reports at the Guards' hospitals in London yesterday were to the effect that the epidemic continues to show signs of abatement, comparatively few men having been sent in from the barracks during the last few days. At the same time, the authorities, warned by the second visitation reported from Windsor, are keeping the enlarged hospital organization intact, to meet any recurrence of sickness amongst the troops before the epidemic shall have fully run its course. The possibility of such recurrence is engaging much attention in the medical department of the War Office, and warnings have been given generally to all the military stations for surgeons not to relax precautions too hastily upon a presumed cessation of the disease. The development of influenza in Ireland is also giving much concern to the staff of the Medical Director-General, there being about 27,000 troops now quartered in the island. At the War Office yesterday it was stated that the large number of officials affected had greatly retarded the business of that establishment.

The epidemic at the General Post Office is steadily decreasing in extent, although there were 114 fresh cases yesterday. On Friday last there were 2,053 "employés" absent; yesterday the number was reduced to 1,566.

Cairo, Jan. 14

Mr. Stanley and his party left Suez at 7 o'clock this morning. They were received at the stations "en route" by the governors of provinces, who came to convey the Khedive's greetings. The party arrived in Cairo shortly after noon. The Master of the Ceremonies, Sir E. Baring, Lady Baring, the majority of the officials, and a large number of Europeans were at the station in spite of the unusually inclement weather. Mr. Stanley drove with the Master of the Ceremonies to the Palace, where he was received by the Khedive with the utmost cordiality, and in half an hour's interview succeeded in completing the business which he had had so much at heart since his departure from Zanzibar.

In reply to the Khedive's inquiries about Emin Pasha, Mr. Stanley referred eloquently to the remarkable qualities and the administrative ability which he had displayed during his 13 years' service, and laid stress on the conciliatory nature of his disposition, and the confidence which he enjoyed among the natives of all classes, his one defect as a ruler being his unwillingness to countenance harsh measures even when necessary and just. Mr. Stanley added that Emin Pasha was possessed by the one desire to be useful to the Government, and a message that he could be thus employed would be the best medicine to effect his cure. On the Khedive' expressing the utmost anxiety to adopt this course, Mr. Stanley suggested that, in a purely administrative capacity at Suakin, Wady Halfa, or wherever conciliation with the tribes was desirable, Emin Pasha would prove invaluable, with a strong executive in other hands.

The Khedive warmly assented, and promised to telegraph to Emin Pasha to this effect.

Mr. Stanley speaks with enthusiasm of all his officers. Lieutenant Stairs's ready apprehension of orders, Dr. Parke's absolute devotion, Mr. Jephson's passion for work, and Captain Nelson's thorough manliness were all, to use his words, supreme.

All the party will be decorated by the Khedive. Mr. Stanley himself has received the Grand Cordon of the Medjidieh.

Mr. Stanley estimates the distance travelled in the interior at about 5,400 miles, of which all but 1000 were on foot. The entire cost of the expedition will not exceed £30,000. He considers the wisdom of the Congo route incontestably proved. He terms the abandonment of the Soudan a political crime, and says that the Soudan question is one of money only, and the cost of its solution is the cost of a railway from Suakin to Berber. He was strongly impressed with the signs of Sir S. Baker's influence still existing in the Soudan, particularly in Emin Pasha's province, where the soldiers told Mr. Jephson that they were not Gordon's nor Emin's, but Baker's men. Mr. Jephson adds that even above the respect shown for "Longbeard," as Sir S. Baker is termed, is the devotion to "The Morning Star," under which poetic name the memory of Lady Baker has almost become a cult.

With reference to the letters of Sir G. Graham and others on General Gordon, Mr. Stanley says he can retract nothing from the statement he first made at the Mansion House in 1885. He yields to none in his admiration of the purity of General Gordon's motives and the nobility of his character, but was only anticipating General Gordon's own statement, published subsequently in his journals, where he called himself a bad subordinate, who disobeyed orders. Mr. Stanley called this noble wilfulness. In any case it is a pure matter of interpretation of admitted facts, and it is unnecessary to import personal bitterness into the discussion of the incidents of an heroic truth.

Mr. Stanley fears the worst as regards the German officers in the hands of Bwana Heri, who is likely to exercise vengeance for Bushiri's execution. He regards that execution as impolitic; it should have been accorded greater publicity. It was too sudden to create sufficient effect, and many still believe him to be alive.

Lisbon, Jan. 14

A meeting of the Liberal party last night unanimously passed a resolution applauding the action of the late Cabinet in connection with the conflict with England as showing that they preferred the true interests of the country to any false popularity.

Things are decidedly quieter here to-day, but the excitement in the provinces continues. Fortunately, the report of the attack on the English Consul at Oporto proves to be untrue; the windows of the Consulate, however, were smashed. A patriotic meeting will take place at Oporto to-night. The Governor has taken precautions to maintain order.

Coimbra was yesterday in a state of frenzied indignation, and the English flag was burnt by a howling mob, including some Chauvinist students, who thus disgraced the ancient University city of Portugal.

It may be taken for granted that throughout the country all possible filth is being thrown against England; this will save the repetition of diatribes which Portugal later on will be ashamed of. There is some excuse for these attacks on the part of the Portuguese journals; but there is none for the Anglophobe tone of the foreign Press. The Madrid Imparcial is especially unjust towards England, concluding an article which has been telegraphed here, with the words, "There is no debt which is not paid."

The Imparcial forgets to make one exception—namely the debt of Spain, as to the non-payment of which England knows something. The newspapers here illogically give 'vivas' for Spain and France and attack England and Germany, forgetting in their temporary aberration that the destruction of Portuguese prosperity, both in ancient and modern times, was due to the two first-named, while the two latter have given blood and treasure to protect and secure the independence that Portugal now enjoys, and that without this aid she would have been wiped out of the map of Europe and consequently out of that of Africa.

The new Cabinet will probably be constituted as follows:—Senhor Serpa Pimentel, Premier and Minister of the Interior, and Minister of War "ad interim"; Senhor Lopo Vaz, Minister of Justice; Senhor Franco Castello Branco, Minister of Finance; Senhor Arroyo or Senhor Julio Vilhena, Minister of Marine; Senhor Hintze Ribeiro, Minister for Foreign Affairs; and Senhor Frederico Aronca, Minister of Public Works.

Oporto, Jan. 14

In the north of Portugal there is a universal feeling of indignation, mingled with gloom at the English ultimatum. The Commissioner of Police, unsolicited, sent constables to guard the Consulate here. Last night there was a hostile demonstration, and a few stones were thrown at the Consulate, one pane of glass being broken.

A meeting of students has been held at Coimbra, at which it was proposed to form a battalion of volunteers amongst the students.

In Oporto, among other things, it is proposed to start a national subscription for the purchase of an iron-clad.

The Press is very bitter. The Diario do Commercio, although it violently attacks England, points out that the English colony, which has always been friendly to the Portuguese, is not responsible for the acts of the English Government, and should not be molested, as at Lisbon.

LONDON LETTER.

THE ADVANCING NEW YEAR.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Jan. 4th

The early days of a foggy, dismal week were consumed by dirge and eulogy in remembrance of Robert Browning whose remains were on Tuesday last dropped into a black parallelogram in the Abbey aisle, close to the grave of Cowley. The white surplices of the priests and singers variegated by glimpses of colour from the painted windows made the whole look blacker, and only the impressive music, sung as it can be sung in Westminster, recalled the fretted mind from the horrors of "dust to dust" to the nobler conception of "light to light" in all degrees and through eternity. Browning was a Jew, they say; and he looked it. His wife's hymn "He giveth his beloved, sleep," set by Dr. Frederick Bridge, the abbey organist and commonly called "Westminster Bridge," to distinguish him from a brother and brother organist at Chester, seems to live in the memories of the literary, clerical, musical and artistical pall bearers, mourners and the beautifully dressed crowd round about the poet's grave. Lady Colin Campbell, we are told, wore a rich dress of red Genoa velvet slashed hussar-fashion in front. Lady somebody else was in violet, and so on. Lord and Lady Tomnoddy made a day of it, you bet. A poet to be buried is not an everyday occurrence. The writing to Jones or Sir Harry to say, "you must get us tickets," the ordering of dresses and the pleasure of knowing that the Smiths and the Ponsonbys were disappointed, as all tickets had been disposed of, occupied society for a full week before old Browning's mummy was slung from the steamer's hold into the railway van on Dover pier. He is now battened down and rests with his pals in Poets' Corner. I might have said more elegantly "his compeers"; but long before the red Genoa velvet dresses are threadbare there will be a fierce literary fight over the question, whether Browning had any right to be laid in Westminster Abbey at all? Perhaps the hurly-burly will be stilled by the death of another and greater singer whose rights to lie in the national mausoleum will not be questioned. Tennyson may be the last; unless the scheme of enlarging the Abbey is approved. Dead poets, like Yorick and the dead Cæsar, smell "so;" and the crowded Abbey is liable to indictment under the Sanitary Inspection Act.

The influenza is in Dublin. This afternoon's accounts of the spread of the epidemic at the East End of London and in the provinces are intended to be alarming enough to increase the sale of the papers, which, for want of general news, hang fire. At Chicago the Abbey Operatic troupe, Tamagno, Patti and the rest are down with the pest. Lord Lytton is a victim in Paris, where the delivery of letters is disturbed, and the theatres and schools are closing through the increased fatality of the epidemic. It is no scare. It is a real danger, but no doubt exaggerated by being mixed up with numberless cases of common but severe colds, which under any circumstances would prevail in such weather as seems to have been experienced on the Continent here and in the United States for the last month or two. The autumn was very warm, and the first frost created a vaporous atmosphere we are not yet rid of.

You can welcome into your 'bus two distinguished new-comers—the Daily Graphic and what the French have called "Earl Wemyss' new journal", the Speaker. Here Mr. Wemyss Reid is familiarly known as 'Tom", and his paper is called "the Speaker." Both of the new-comers duly appeared this morning. Experts tell us that the "blocks" of the Daily Graphic are up to the mark, but that it must be more "newsy" to sell. Those of us who are not in it and know nothing of "blocks" decide that both as to illustration and matter the Daily Graphic is poor. It looks like a daily edition of Scraps or a Pall Mall Budget elongated, and not superior to that publication in "blocks", and, of course, as to matter it is not to be named in the same breath. The Speaker is ably written but too closely printed and mean looking. However it promises well as an intellectual weekly in the Liberal interest. "Tom" has been evidently anxious to get well known hands to work. It is not for the likes of me to criticise the administration of so experienced a bloke as "Tom"; but my notion is "the well-known hands" are a mistake. It was tried in the Academy—and where is the "Academy?"—On the Club tables, as usual, but few read it. The fact is, those of us who are obliged to read newspapers critically know old hand writing and we know all that the writers have got to say. New men, even if they blunder, are what we crave for. Believe me "Tom" you are on the wrong tack. It is Knowles mistake in the Fortnightly. And the Contemporary is only a shade better. You want an article by Huxley or Mr. Gladstone? Do you? Well there are fifty young men who will sit down and write you an article by any of those men and better articles than they could write themselves. A man, whoever he is, has only a certain something to say, and he very soon says it. I am speaking more of matter than of style. The style, when it palpably exists, is confessedly inimitable. Imitations only result in parody. The Contemporary goes in for notable women such as Lady Jersey or Lady Cooper. No fellow could write their lucubrations for them; but there are women who could write in the same way, and with an assumed social title their articles would go down with the snobbish English public. There is a great want of earnestness in literary England in 1890. Everything that is done, or thought of, is for "pay." What people call "energy" has supplanted earnestness and enthusiasm. There is no lack of energy, but it works in the accustomed slides like a piston rod, and soon becomes monotonous.

Sarah Bernhardt has been successful in her creation of "Jeanne d'Arc," in a play written by M. Jules Barbier, with music by Counod, produced last night at the Ambigu in Paris. Her conception of the character is founded upon the idea that the French martyress and heroine was a neuropatic patient of slight build and delicate constitution, and subject to hallucinations. The modern world has agreed to hypnotise Jeanne. In that respect, the character suits the delicate frame and nervous impressionability of the divine Sarah, who has thrown her whole soul into the patriotic sentiments provided for her by the author, and succeeds now and again in electrifying her hearers. But critics complain that the music somewhat overpowers her, and that M. Gounod's solemn and even Mass-like chords and strains produce on the audience the impression of being in church rather than in a theatre.

Gayarre's funeral in Madrid took place amidst sleet and mist. Still, fifty thousand people attended the ceremony. His body is to rest in Navarre. This popular singer is said to have left £160,000. Poor singer. He left it too long. Why not spend it?

BOULANGER ON THE BRAZILIAN REPUBLIC.

Amongst the salutations and congratulations received by General Deodoro da Fonseca was a message from Boulanger, which has been published. It is as follows:—

Accept my sincere congratulations for the able and patriotic manner in which you have carried out the plans that resulted in the overthrow of a despised Monarchy. Your generalship in the cause of an oppressed people is made doubly grand by the fact that not a single life was sacrificed. How different from that of 1775, which made the United States the grandest nation in the world! How different from that of France in 1789. The United States set the example, which revealed the possibility years ago of all America becoming free from the yoke of Imperialism. France followed in her footsteps, and God grant that ere another century has rolled by all Europe will be free. I have great faith in the future of France, much as she may be misgoverned at present—a misfortune I hope will never befall Brazil. The time is not far distant when outraged liberty will have a hearing. It is with you, as it is with me and my "confreres", to show to the world, as the great United States has done, that Republican Government founded on Liberty, Fraternity, and Equality will expand until the last vestige of kingcraft is swept away from the earth.

Long live the United States of Brazil! Long live America!

Boulanger.

To this communication President Fonseca replied;—

In the name of the citizens of the United States of Brazil I thank you for the cordial greetings which you were inspired to send me. Be assured that every means worthy of patriotism were used to bring about the present glorious result. Yes, Brazil is free, and all America is free. Nevermore—and I speak advisedly—will the tyranny of kingcraft be experienced upon these shores. The present result in Brazil has been the dream of my boyhood. In undertaking the step that has resulted so gloriously in our favour, I was fully aware of the great responsibility it entailed. My desire was to bring about a bloodless and honourable revolution. This desire has been gratified, thanks be to God! Some of my good friends in this and other parts of the world have honoured me with the title of "Boulanger of Brazil". Let me say I am proud of the title. And if Boulangerism means the peaceful overthrow of despotism and the firm establishment of Liberty, Equality, Fraternity, and Prosperity, I cry aloud, with all my heart, "Long live Boulanger!"

Fonseca.

DEAD MEN'S GOLD.

(From the P. M. Gazette.)

The great fortunes, as usual, were made in business, including those of the two millionaires

John Rylands, Rylands and Son	£2,574,922
Sir William Pearce, Bart., Shipbuilder	1,069,000

This makes a poor show compared with the four millionaires whose deaths provided duty on between six and seven millions in 1888. A large proportion of the commercial fortunes were made in Lancashire and Yorkshire—

Julius Behrens, Manchester	420,317
Mrs. Platt, Staleybridge Mills	412,000
T. B. Gunston, Gunston and Sons, Liverpool	355,288
James Murray, Manchester cotton spinner	325,053
Wm. Carver, Manchester cotton spinner	272,252
J. Collier Harter, Manchester drysalter	267,000
Wm. Tipping, of Bold	235,406
Henry H. Hornby	235,000

Many merchants and manufacturers left fortunes of from £100,000 to £200,000—

Wm. J. Cookson, Newcastle and Worksop, chemicals	585,000
Fred. J. Bryant, Bryant and May, matches	272,321
Geo. Borwick, baking powder,	259,740
David Spencer, Coventry, wool	240,000
James Can, chemical manufacturer	216,000
Geo. Wills, Bristol, tobacco	151,677
Th. Hollingsworth, Maidstone, paper	125,573
Jos. Lewis, silk manufacturer	124,590

Beer and wisky are more than ever to the fore in the wills of the year, as this list will show:—

Brewers and Distillers.

James Jameson, distiller, Dublin	£489,352
D. Thwaites, brewer, Blackburn	464,516
W. H. Crawford, brewer, Cork	328,000

Advices from Cordoba state that the contractors of the railway from Villa Mercedes in San Luis to Santa Rosa are pushing forward the works with activity. The railway runs along the valley which stretches between Cordoba and San Luis It is stated that the rails will reach Renca within five months.

The La Plata Government have authorized the Ensenada Railway Company to build a siding between Quilmes and Belanstegui. The Southern Railway Company have also been authorized to build a station at kil. 753, on the Tres Arroyos Extension.

We find the following remarks under the heading of "An Argentine muddle" in Money of the 11th ult. It will be seen that our friends in London are not quite sure as to who is the president of the Argentine Republic:—' For some time past there have been difficulties between the Argentine Government and the English companies which had undertaken to provide certain railways under a certain fixed guarantee of interest. More than twelve months ago President Wellman complained that the English companies did not perform their part of the contract. They did not keep the lines in proper order, and they did not provide sufficient engine power and trucks to move the goods waiting for transport. Thousands of tons of produce for export were lying at the railway stations, and no trains to move them. At the risk of being charged with repudiation he would refuse to pay the guarantee unless the work was done. The difficulty has now reached an acute point. The guaranteed dividend of the Argentine Great Western Railway Company is seven per cent., and was due at Buenos Ayres on the 1st November, 1889. The following telegram has been received by the company here from there local board in Buenos Ayres:—"The National Government has not yet paid up the amount of their guarantee, but promise to do so during January." The board in London appears to be in some little doubt about the matter, for it promises to issue the cheques due for interest on the 1st January "as soon as advice is received of the actual payment of the guarantee." The Government appears to charge the railway company with non-fulfilment of contract, and to postpone payment till the contract is fulfilled. If that is the case, the railway company should make haste to repair its faults, for we may be quite sure that the British Government will not interfere. But we do not pretend to say which party is right and which wrong. We only note that the Government has suspended the payment of the guarantee for two months. It remains for the railway company to show that their part of the contract had always been duly fulfilled."

We clip the following from exchanges under date London Saturday 11th ult.: "Central Argentine Railway. The Directors have decided to call an extraordinary general meeting of the Company for an early date, to consider resolutions which will then be submitted, providing for the increase of the capital of the Company by the issue of 450,000 additional shares of £5 each, and the conversion and increase of the debenture debt of the Company."

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Sunday night was the hottest on record, and old Sol was not well out of bed yesterday morning till the the thermometer marked 85 in the shade, and at 10 p.m 90 was the figure. It was too hot to last, and Jupiter Pluvius sailed in at 3 o'clock in the most refreshing manner.

The news from Montevideo is that influenza is increasing fast there, and we are inclined to think that it is following suit here, judging by all the coughing and sneezing going on.

They say that more tramway horses died or broke down at their work on Sunday last than was ever seen before. No wonder. The heat was so terrible. Oh! for some kind of mechanical motor.

Amusement seekers, please note that Frank Brown closes his season at the San Martin this evening, the event being marked by the fact that he takes his usual benefit. The programme is extraordinary, but even without any other special attraction, Brown's popularity is so great (and deservedly so) that he would be sure of a bumper.

The programme at the Fronton Nacional on Sunday had to be almost entirely changed, owing to the illness of Samperio and Beloqui. The first match was arranged between four of the "petits pelotaris," Juanito and Isidro Brau v. P. Laperre and C. Zuniga, the former winning by nine aces, due to the splendid service of Juanito Brau. The second match was Elicegui and Uranga v. Portal and Mardura, the latter giving a square advantage in the service. In spite of this and the growing fame of Uranga as a "zaguero," before an ace was played the betting was two to one on Portal. The latter, however, cut it altogether, and Elicegui and Uranga playing with such determination, the bookmakers were all upset, Elicegui winning by seven aces. Portal has rarely made such a sorry exhibition of himself, and Mardura, seeing it was a hopeless case, played rather indifferently,

The Lord Mayor will start for Cordoba on a visit to the President of the Republic next week.

We feel great pleasure in welcoming home our highly distinguished friend, Dr. Larsen del Castaño, Deputy to Congress, and formerly Commercial Judge. He has just arrived in the French steamer Bresil, after a long tour in Europe.

An old party named Juan de la Cruz died at Dolores on Saturday at the patriarchal age of 100 years. Grand old man. In the Recoleta Cemetery the remains of an old lady named Alegre, who had reached the wonderful age of 110 years were interred. She leaves descendants of the fifth generation.

We beg to remind our readers that Mr Hebblethwaite's (Calle Paraguay No. 635) furniture is to be sold to-day by our friends Messrs. Bullrich. It is very good and pretty and there are besides valuable engravings and a handsome victoria and a pair of Russian horses to be sold. This auction is a chance not to be had every day in the week.

Talking of Russia, the recent sudden visit of General Ignatieff to Rome is still exercising European diplomacy. The following story about him is good: During his last stay in the City of the Popes, one morning, Count Ignatieff, when taking his usual constitutional, espied an intimate friend a few paces in front of him, with his hands behind his back and holding his hat, in the inside of which he had deposited a beautiful white-silk handkerchief and a pair of brand new gloves. Count Ignatieff, cautiously and noiselessly advancing on tip toe, removed the handkerchief and gloves with the lightness of hand of a professional pickpocket, and was already inwardly chuckling at the good joke he had practiced on his friend, when a heavy hand grasped him by the collar, and the count, thoroughly astounded, found himself face to face with a policeman. So certain was the officer of the law of his prisoner's guilt, that it required the most energetic intervention on the part of the alleged victim of the theft to induce him to release the count.

Our sprightly London contemporary, Answers, thus describes our talented countryman, Mr. T. P. O'Connor, editor of the Star.—"Tay Pay. Such is the familiar designation of the editor of the Star, Mr. T. P. O'Connor, M.P. A man above the middle height, with dark hair parted across his forehead, a slight moustache, and an airy step, he is not noted for his dress so much as for his powers of conversation and ready wit. For a long while he lived on the premises where the Star is published, his clever wife being also a writer, and responsible for a large share of the gossip that is served up under the title "Mainly about People." Mr. O'Connor is an admirable speaker, witty, and to the point, and as a journalist there are few men who know so well the tastes of the million, or what is likely to interest them.

The latest queer news in the New York papers about the South American delegates to the Pan-American Congress is that they have turned bagmen, or what our Northern cousins call "drummers," and are giving orders for goods right and left. It was the great Bismarck who first discovered that there is nothing derogatory in states men and diplomatists meddling in trade matters. A good part of the world, however refuses to think with the iron Chancellor on the subject.

The proprietors of the Alhambra, Messrs Harry Etherington & Co., have determined to open the Alhambra in the old hospitable style. They have issued invitations to the Press for a supper-concert, to come off to-morrow evening in their grand new hall. We feel much obliged for the card sent us.

The Health Junta and Government at Montevideo have come to the supremely wise decision to suppress Carnival this year lest the influenza should spread. Any excuse is good in a good cause. It is, we fear, not to be expected that Government here will take a similar precaution in favour of public health. The masquerade ball nuisance promises to be worse than ever this year. We hear that there is also a political reason underlying the suspension of the carnival across the water. Of course there is; in the Plate politics stick to all men and things from their cradle to their grave.

Influenza has now attacked the Argentine navy as well as the army. A score of men of the cruiser Patagonia are laid up with it.

The death of Miss Oliveira, only 18 years of age, in Montevideo, in consequence of taking an over-dose of anti-pyrine for influenza, should be a warning to those who patronize this somewhat treacherous medicine.

In reference to the old, age-worn, ratmined "casucha" alongside the National Hypothecary Bank which Mr. Altgelt, the eminent architect, is building, we learn that it was a wretched shanty, bound to come down. Not a brick of the Bank building fell.

There was literally no camp news worth repeating yesterday. All the Municipalities from the Arroyo Medio to Cape Horn are devoting the full strength of what they are pleased to call their minds to preparations for Carnival, which we hope they will enjoy, though it's all but a foolery dream at the best.

A telegram from Cordoba says that President Juarez will not return here till March.

The enthusiastic Mendocinos are in quite low spirits at being baulked of a visit from Minister Bocayuva, and all their flags, food and finery for the event will go to waste. Our distinguished visitor has promised to visit them before he leaves the country, if he possibly can.

Mr. Edward Madero gives another Port breakfast "sans ceremonie" this morning to a large number of friends. The Madero Port will long be remembered for the profuse hospitality connected with the first stages of its existence.

An English and an Irish sailor were in an engagement together. The former had his leg shot off, and asked Pat to carry him below to the doctor. Pat picked him up, and, while carrying him off, another ball unknown to Pat, carried off the Englishman's head. Some one told Pat it was no use carrying the man to the surgeon, for his head was off. "By my sowl," said Pat, "the fellow desaved me; he told me it was his leg."

There was a bit of a scene on Sunday afternoon in Calle Florida, owing to a big rat getting entangled in the under-garments of an elegantly dressed lady who was waiting with her daughter for the tramway. The poor lady rushed screaming into a confiteria, where she managed to shake off the animal, and some gentlemen present killed it with their sticks. Calle Florida rats have always been noted for their audacity and enormous size.

Over a thousand people were present on Saturday when a costly gold slab was presented to Minister Moreno for his part in settling the Misiones question. The ceremony took place in the Municipal saloons. Mr. Dentone read the address and Mr. Navarro and others made speeches. Mr. Moreno replied in brief but eloquent terms, and the proceedings wound up with music and champagne.

"The late Mrs. George Bancroft, a keen observer, once told me," says Colonel Higginson in Harper's Bazar, "that she never knew an Englishman, however eminent in art or science, who, if he had dined with a duke, could help mentioning the fact to all his aquaintances."

The Empress Augusta has left a considerable fortune, amounting, it is said, to some 7,000,000 marks. Her will was opened on last month. It had been drawn up more than 12 years ago, with the help of the late Baron Stockmar, the well-known intimate freind of the Emperor and Empress Frederick. A codicil was added at Coblenz after her husband's death. Her Majesty leaves her jewels and personal ornaments as keepsakes to various personal friends. One jewel of great value is bequeathed to the Queen of England. She has bequeathed her palaces at Berlin and Babelsberg to the Emperor William, 4,000,000 marks to her daughter, Grand Duchess of Baden, and numerous legacies to religious and charitable objects and to personal attendants.

"Love is generous", sings the poet, but, nevertheless there is more or less Cupidity connected with it.

The French St. Cloud Fete was just as crowded as ever on Sunday, though it was the fourth day. Over $2,000 were taken in all. A splendid day's work in charity's cause.

There is trouble in escribano circles in Mercedes. One of the "gremio" locked up; but why or wherefore we have not the remotest idea, and wouldn't tell on the poor man if we had, until his trial decides the case. A morning colleague says there is another "ruidoso" case coming on in high life circles that will set the town by the ears, but whether it relates to matrimony, manslaughter, or malversation, there is as yet no evidence to show.

Every once in a while the orange peel brings with it a sad reminder of the roller-skating craze.

Stanley Africanus does not conceal the interesting fact that he cannot get on with either poets or women; and there is only one of the latter in the whole world that he can bear to talk with for ten minutes. Who is the lucky woman? Some dusky African Princess?

Immigration is still looking towards lower figures. In the first ten days of this month the arrivals only foot up 2,845 souls; and at the same rate for the rest of it the showing will be rather a poor one. It is only a temporary lull, however.

The Prensa says that last month six cases similar to that in which Mr. Parnell is now figuring were brought before the courts in this city; the husbands being the plaintiffs, and being all foreigners. It is added that the six amiable gentlemen are anxious to kiss and be friends, but the half dozen frail, fair ones won't hear of it. Rather an unpleasant and queer state of things.

It is said that smacking the lips is a vulgar habit. Much depends on whose lips are smacked.

Pomo squirting has already commenced in Rosario, but the citizens, especially the ladies, give it the cold shoulder. It is more than probable that it will be a watery Carnival. Another bit of news from Rosario is that the collecting clerk of a shipping office has cleared away with a good sum of gold which he had collected for freights. The police all over the Republic have been warned to look out for him.

We have received some very nice, breezy verses from a passenger on board the Maskelyne, but must stick to our rule to keep poetry out of our columns. Were we to publish the verses in question, we would require to-morrow one of Villalonga's biggest carts to remove to the "vasura" ground for burning all the poetic effusions certain to follow. Poets, especially the amateur class, set immediately to work furiously when stimulated by the printing of the productions of any of their number. In the Western States of North America amateur poets are lynched on the spot whenever they are caught near a newspaper office.

A machine for selling newspapers in the streets has been invented in France, so the occupation of the news-boys will soon be gone.

The La Plata police have pounced on an organized gang of swindlers engaged in trimming up old bank-notes as new, and doing the bad work in such admirably good style that detection would be extremely difficult.

The masquerade ball managers have abandoned their intended ticklish experiment of giving prizes to the "most elegantly dressed and wittiest" lady maskers. On second thoughts the managers have seen what they ought to have seen at first, that the task set before Paris as a juryman was mere child's play to that of selecting the "most elegantly dressed" amongst several hundred women in a ball room. You may tell a woman that she might be better looking, that she is not exactly a Madame de Stael in the way of brains; in fact you may tell her a good many disagreeable truths in a polite way without very serious consequences; but woe, blue ruin and Pandemonium are certain to be the lot of the man or men mad enough to tell any daughter of Eve that her neighbour is "more elegantly dressed" than herself. Female humanity will stand anything and everything, except this.

Dr. J. Collis Browne's

CHLORODYNE.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE

Advice to Invalids.—If you wish to obtain quiet refreshing sleep, free from headache, relief from pain and and anguish, to calm and assuage the weary achings of protracted disease, invigorate the nervous media and regulate the circulating systems of the body, you will provide yourself with that marvellous remedy discovered by D. J. Collis Brown, (late Army Medical Staff), to which he gave the name of CHLORODYNE, and which is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation, and Spasms.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis, &c.

From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Simla, January 5 1880. To J. T. Davenport, Esq., 33, Great Russel Street, Bloomsbury, London. Dear Sir,—We embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the widespread reputation this justly esteemed medicine, Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan; but all over the East. As a remedy for general utility, we must question whether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are so sorry to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and, judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent. We could multiply instances "ad infinitum" of the extraordinary efficacy of Dr. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne in Diarrhoea and Dysentery, Spasms, Cramps, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative that have occurred under our personal observation during many years. In Choleraic Diarrhoea, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's from a firm Conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a deliberate Breach of Faith on the part of the Chemist to prescribe and Patient alike. We are, Sir, faithfully yours, Symes and Co., Members of the Pharm. Society of Great Britain, His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists.

Caution.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. Page Wood stated that Dr J Collis Browne, was, undoubtedly, the Inventor of Chlorodine; that the story of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue, which he regretted to say, had been sworn to.—See "The Times," July 13, 1864.

Sold in bottles at 1s. 1 1/2d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., and 11s. each. None is genuine without the words "Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne" on the Government stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.

Caution.—Beware of Piracy and Imitations.

Herapath's Journal says that the number of bankruptcies and failures in 1889 show it to have been an exceptionally prosperous year. According to Kemp's statistics, the number of bankruptcies in England and Wales last year show a decrease of 274 compared with 1888; in Ireland the decrease is 23, and in Scotland 130. More notable still in bills of sale the decreases are 2,191 in England and 95 in Ireland. The Bills of Sale Act does not apply to Scotland. In the United Kingdom 138 companies were compulsorily wound up, against 111 in 1888, and 672 were wound up voluntarily, against 610 in 1888. This is a large number, but it is a mere bagatelle to the collapse we shall witness one of these fine days.

The popular money broker, Mr. A. Scharff, was enveloped to-day in friends on his entry into the ring, from which he has been absent for over three months, the most of which he has spent in the camp aloof from "corners, collapses and degringolades." Things are so insufferably dull now on 'Change that many of the brokers have left for their estancias to drink the "valiente puntano" under the shade of the spreading ombu.

We take the following resumé of the London money market from the Times, of January 15th:—

"Money has been in active demand today, more particularly at the Bank of England, both at the discount office and at the Chief Cashier's department, the rate being still 7 per cent. for seven days. In the open market there was a fair inquiry, and rates are higher than they were yesterday, while the quotation for the discount of three months' bank paper is now fully 4¾ per cent. The Continental buyers of bills are at present doing very little, as they rightly think that they will be able to operate on more profitable terms before long. Until the Paris exchange has risen to shipping point no large amounts of gold are likely to arrive here, but it is very probable that a little may be obtained from Holland. It is doubtful whether any will come from Germany, even if the Berlin exchange reaches gold point, as the Reichsbank may think fit to put obstacles in the way of withdrawals. On 'Change bills were in small supply, but rates again moved in favour of this country."

Business at the second hour was much brisker than expected, owing to the gold bears putting in an appearance and selling freely for all dates, especially for Saturday. The spurt which threatened to take the quotations to 225 was thus nipped in the bud, and the prices closed down at 220.80 for to-morrow and Saturday and 221.50 for end of month. In Cedulas and shares, as usual, very little was done.

Bullrich's great auction of lands near the Tigre Hotel held yesterday proved anything but a success, as although the attendance was enormous, there was only a very poor bidding public, which eventually caused the sale to be adjourned. This is but a confirmation of what took place a few days ago at the auction of the Elortondo mansion, and shows the dead-beaten state of the market.

The following is a summary of operations effected this evening at the second ring:—

A lot of land near Martinez Station, F.C.N., found a buyer yesterday at 1.60 m|n per square yard, the area being about 18,000 square yards.

The meeting of shareholders of the Banco Constructor de La Plata was held to-day, and proved a most stormy one. We hold over details for next issue from lack of space.

Passengers booked per R.M.S. Trent, which sailed from Southampton of January 16th:—

For Buenos Aires—Mrs E Bateman and infant, Mr and Mrs Ballard, Mr G Buchanan, Mr A Kuhm, Mr C Moore, Mrs Hart and two children.

For Rosario—Mr W Beckley, Mr H Seek.

For Montevideo—Mr and Mrs G Smith, infant and maid; Mr and Mrs Ballard, Mr and Mrs G Baker, Mr and Mrs J Blower, Messrs T Fahey, F Lawley, T Countryman, F Smith, W Smith, T White and E Jaeger.

The two Lamport and Holt steamers, Garrick and Maskelyne, arrived in Montevideo yesterday, the former with 3560 tons of cargo, and the latter with forty-seven passengers and two thousand tons of cargo. The following is her list of passengers:—Mr. and Mrs. G. Brougham, Eleanor Brougham, Charles Brougham and George Brougham, Mrs. M. Hayes, Mr. H. Bailey, Miss A. Bailey, Miss Husband, Mr. H. B. Wyatt, Mr. G. J. Stead, Mr. G. Newton, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Deakin, Miss E. Howe, Mr. J. J. Pownall, Mr. G. Frankel, Mr. J. V. Motter, Mr. C. E. Burrow, Mr. C. G. Rice, Mr. J. E. Stickney, Mr. and Mrs. Warren, Archibald Warren and Cora Warren, Mr. A. L. Smith, Thomas William Smith, Robert Smith, William A. Smith and Bertie Smith, Mrs. M. A. Burns, Mr. A. L. R. F. Bruce, Mr. A. Thompson, Mr. H. Hopley, Mr. H. Gardner, Mr. D. Mahoney, Mr. I. Irenor, Mr. W. Gaynor, Mr. W. Eades, Mr. A. Rollings, Mr. R. Jennor, Mr. G. Gaulkner, Mr. J. J. Carpendale, Mr. J. Creagh, Mr M. P. Wilsert and Mr. Ary Morisot.

The exchange market is very quiet and there is little paper offered and little doing. The rate is posted at 47¼d to ⅜d.

Another Centro-Agricola concession! Their name is legion now. Mr. Albert Ugalde has been authorised to turn his property, measuring 6749 hectares in Bahia Blanca into a Centro.

Telegram received by Mr. Tattler, from Hamburg. "The Kosmos steamer Kambyses will leave that port on February 15th for Montevideo, Chilian and Guatemala ports. In case that there should be insufficient cargo in Buenos Aires, the steamer could be ordered to load here."

The amount of bills, cheques, etc., paid at the Bankers' Clearing-house, London, during the year ended December 31st, 1889, is £7,618,766,000, which is the highest total yet recorded, showing an increase of £676,584,000 over 1888, and of £1,541,669,000 in the last two years. The payments on Stock Exchange account days form a sum of £1,328,842,000, being an increase of £86,376,000, as compared with 1888. The payments on Consols account days for the same period have amounted to £351,690,000, being an increase of £19,220,000, as compared with 1888. The amounts passing through on the 4ths of the month for 1889 have amounted to £200,117,000, showing an increase of £18,026,000, as compared with 1888. These stupendous amounts show the movement of capital in the great metropolis.

ON 'CHANGE.

PRICE OF GOLD TO-DAY.

First Ring............. 220.50

Second Ring........... 220.50

Tuesday, February 11th.

There was a most markedly improved tone in the gold market to-day, which relieved much anxiety, as it was thought that the spurt yesterday would be followed up to-day by a bullish sally. Such, fortunately, was not the case. The bulls started vigorously and succeeded in putting the cash quotation up to 221.50, when a reaction took place, which brought the price down almost in a swoop to 220, closing at 220.50. For Saturday a very large business was done almost on same lines, rate opening at 220.90, advancing to 221.40, and closing weak at 220.30. The Cedula market was very dull, only small lots changing hands. In shares, some Flores Constructors were noted done at 72 for end of month and 70 for cash, Catalinas at 48, Municipal Lottery Bonds at 55, and Constructors at 72. There is thus no change to chronicle, nor do brokers expect to see any until a stiff decline in the gold premium infuses more confidence into the market.

The following is a summary of operations effected this afternoon during the first ring:—

The meeting of shareholders of the Banco Nacional called to hear the Accounts' Committee's report on the balance-sheet, was held yesterday. The Committee recommended the approval of the report and balance-sheet, finding the accounts in every respect strictly correct, though they would recommend more stringency in the over-drafts. The rate of discount will be raised, advances made against produce, and the usual dividend of 5 o|o per quarter paid as during last year.

The meeting of shareholders of the Banco Constructor de La Plata was also held yesterday, and although opinion was much divided, the changes suggested by the board with regard to issue of Obligations, and the report and balance-sheet, were approved. The election of directors gave the following results:—

Directors—F. Cichero, C. M. Schweitzer and Julio Dreher.

Substitutes—M. Roca, T. Hegenbarth, B. Fernandez, J. M. Olmedo, A. Roca and A. Ravazzini.

Accounts' Committee—B. Williams and A. Blanch.

The steamship Maskelyne brings to Mr. Neild one horse, to order twelve rams, to Wallace one bull.

The Garrick brings to J. Callen twelve horses.

Don José M. Bombal has sold from his camp establishment in Melincué, two thousand oxen for "invernada" at $13.50 each, to deliver this month and March. Buyers, Devotto Brothers.

The scramble for money to-day appeared greater than usual on Stock Exchange settling days, the high rates asked for loans aggravating the pressure. Six to seven per cent were common charges for day to day money, and in exceptional cases where it was desired to avoid the Bank as much as seven and a half per cent. was paid. A moderate amount was obtained from the central institution, but money came in from the country for employment late in the afternoon. For discount there was a very small inquiry, and prohibitive rates were quoted. The market accordingly was ill supplied with bills. Exceptional business was reported at 4¾ and 4⅞ per cent. The Paris exchange has fallen back to 25.25½. The small influx of coin notified below was too exceptional to be regarded confidently as the forerunner of a large or steady influx.

	per cent.
Bank rate	6
Market rate of discounr, sixty days' drafts	4⅞ to 5
Ditto three months	4⅞ to 5
Ditto four months	4⅞

Ditto (discount houses)	4½ to 4¾

At the Bank to-day the sum of £50,000 in sovereigns was withdrawn for Lisbon, while £6000 in French coin was bought. Since the last return there has been an efflux on balance of £94,000. The silver market displays great strength, the high rates obtained for the India Council drafts having given a fresh impetus to the upward movement. The price for bars is now 44⅜d per ounce.

The following commercial telegrams bringing the latest advices regarding Argentine products abroad will be read with interest:—

Antwerp, Feb. 8—Stock of River Plate wool and of all kinds from 5000 to 6000 bales.

Matadero dry cow hides, 20 to 21 lbs. weight, 84 to 88 francs the 50 kilos.

Saladero salted novillo hides, 20 to 25 kilos weight, 56 to 59 francs the 50 kilos.

Stock of River Plate hides of all kinds 120,000 to 130,000 hides.

During second fortnight of January no shipments of sugar have been effected from this port nor from Rotterdam; 600 to 700 lbs. were shipped from Hamburg and 400 to 500 from Bremen.

Exchange on London at three months 25.33 34 francs per pound sterling less discount for days to run, at the Bank of England rate.

Berlin, Feb. 8 — Argentine National Bonds 1887, 5 per cent. interest, 90 to 90½ per cent.

Province of Buenos Ayres 1886, 5 p cent 93 to 93½ per cent.

Antwerp, Feb. 8 — Argentine National Bonds 1886, 5 per cent. interest, 92 to 92½ per cent.

New York, Feb. 8—Buenos Ayres dry cow hides, 20 to 23 lbs., 13 to 13½ cents per lb.

Buenos Ayres dry calf hides, 10 to 13 lbs, 9½ to 10 cents per lb.

Stock of dry hides of all kinds 625,000 to 640,000 hides.

Havannah, Feb. 8—River Plate jerked beef quoted in this market at 16 to 16½ rls. per arrobe. Total stock of article in Havannah, Matanzas, Cardenas and Cienfuegos 44,000 to 46,000 quintals.
